Commerce. Community. Culture.

With a training centre in Fort St John, and mobile and virtual services available, Bizzybody is invested in reducing economic, social, geographic, and racial barriers, while increasing self-concepts to build healthier community ecosystems. We provide development, training, and consulting services to assist in business creation, upscaling, and career development for industries like Artpreneurship, Hospitality, Virtual Tourism, and Energy Resources. We leverage career competencies and essential skills to help our clients celebrate culture, build strong communities, and make money on their own terms. Bizzybody provides training through and with recognized knowledge keepers, because business and career success happen in conjunction with, and not separate from community and cultural foundations.

Indigenous owned and operated since 2008.
